Story: Gappu Learns to Share

A Sikhora Kids storybook. Read it together, then answer the questions at the end.

In a village near the forest lived a little elephant named Gappu.

"These bananas are all mine!" said Gappu, hugging a big bunch.

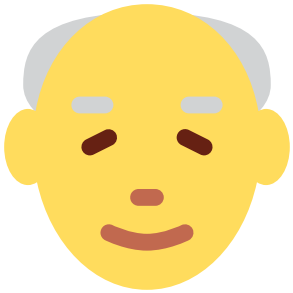

Just then, his friend Meera walked by with an empty basket.

"Gappu, may I have one banana, please? I am so hungry."

Gappu looked at his bananas. Then he looked at Meera.

Grandpa Elephant smiled and said, "Food tastes sweeter when we share it."

1. What did Grandpa say tastes sweeter?
○ Food we share ○ Food we hide ○ Cold food

2. Who was hungry?

○ Meera ○ Grandpa ○ The tree
