Story: Tara and the Lost Moon

A Sikhora Kids storybook. Read it together, then answer the questions at the end.

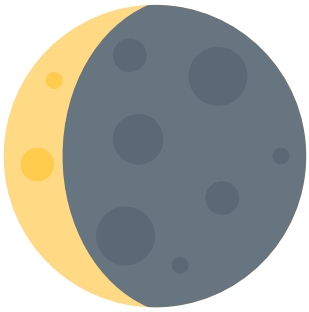

One night, Tara looked out of her window. The moon was not there!

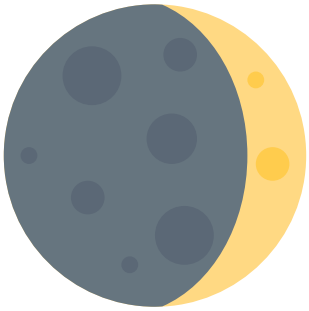

"Oh no! Where has the moon gone?" Tara whispered.

An owl in the neem tree hooted, "Hoo-hoo! The moon is not lost, little one."

"Every night the moon looks a little different. On some nights we cannot see it at all."

Night after night, Tara watched. A thin moon smiled at her, then grew rounder and rounder.

"There you are!" laughed Tara, when the full moon shone again.

1. Was the moon really lost?

○ No, it looks different each night ○ Yes, it fell down ○ It went away forever

2. Who helped Tara understand?
○ An owl ○ A cat ○ A fish