Talking Storybook: Mitthu Counts the Stars

A Sikhora Kids storybook. Read it together, then answer the questions at the end.

One night, Mitthu could not sleep. He looked out of his window at the dark sky.

One star twinkled. Then two stars. Then three!

"I will count them all," said Mitthu. Four, five, six… there were too many to count!

Mitthu's eyes grew heavy. He yawned a big yawn.

"Good night, stars," he whispered, and he fell fast asleep.
